Ernst Promotes Lisa Donahue to Director Position

Donahue becomes Director of Strategic Accounts for the Title & Settlement Agent Market

ALBANY, NY—February 29, 2016—Ernst Publishing Company, the leading provider of technology and closing cost data for the real estate and home finance industries for the past 26 years, announced today that Lisa Donahue, an industry veteran with 23 years of experience, has been promoted to Director of Strategic Accounts, Title & Settlement Agent Market. In her new role, she will build relationships with users of the company's Settlement Agent Gateway platform and custom title solutions.

"In the wake of TRID, we have found that technology has gone from a 'need to have' proposition to a critical concern, especially on the title and settlement agent side of the business," said Jan Clark, vice president of sales and marketing for Ernst Publishing. "No one in the industry knows this business as well as Lisa does and we're very fortunate to have her on our team. Putting her into this new position will allow her to help the companies that desperately need our solutions get the most out of them."

Donahue joined the Ernst team in the fall of 2013 and is an integral part of the team implementing the technology that Ernst designed to help prevent thousands of smaller settlement agents from being forced out of the business by TRID compliance concerns on the part of lenders. Donahue is based in Pittsburgh.

"The compliance environment is so difficult right now that title and settlement agents who make a misstep can be literally forced from the business," Donahue said. "We have the technology to allow these critically important players to offer fully compliant products and services and meet the needs of lenders who are concerned with the risk of noncompliance. I'm excited about spending my time going forward helping these companies meet today's market needs."
